2008 Cascade Server User's Conference Updates

The 2008 Cascade Server User's Conference is right around the corner, and we already have over 100 attendees registered! The conference is being held here in Atlanta, GA on September 22-23 at the Georgia Tech Hotel and Conference Center. Although we're completely sold out of on-site rooms at the GTHCC, day rate registration (which covers conference admission, breakfast, lunch, and our Monday night open house dinner) will remain open until September 1st. We've also arranged to secure rooms at a hotel within walking distance of the site, so if you're interested in attending the conference, register as a day rate attendee and contact Sam Beresford at (678) 904-6900 x191 for assistance in setting up your accommodations.

For more information about this year's User's Conference, take a look at our 2008 Cascade Server User's Conference page. You'll find the complete conference schedule, descriptions of all the conference sessions you can choose to attend, and more information about the conference site. We look forward to seeing you in September!

Real World Examples Page Updated; Emory University Site Redesign Featured

Here at Hannon Hill, we take great pride in Cascade Server and all the ways in which our clients use it to create their Web sites, including features such as blogs, calendars, press releases, newsrooms, course catalogs, and RSS feeds. Emory University is one of the latest clients to utilize Cascade and achieve amazing results; on August 22nd, Emory University launched their newly redesigned website. Boasting numerous impressive features, Emory's completely revamped site includes an emergency alert system, an improved campus news and events display, a more user-friendly information architecture, and a site-wide streamlined look-and-feel.

Emory's new site truly exemplifies the versatility of Cascade Server, and in the spirit of first-class implementations, we decided it would be fitting to share a few other client instances of Cascade. We've updated our Real World Examples page, providing examples of clients who are using all of the versatile elements of Cascade Server, and links to their sites so you can see our product in action!
